Saleen meets porcelain

The easy-care, hygienic synthetic wicker under the brand name Saleen from Westmark meets porcelain.

Bowls and saucers in various shapes embedded in attractive basket housings in beige and black impart a charming country house style.

The bowls are perfect for dips, gherkins, chilli, olives, crackers, pretzel sticks and the like. In short everything that enhances the taste at a buffet, party or the family table. Your advantage: if your guests happen to make a bit of a mess and olive oil or yoghurt gets on the Saleen fibres – baskets and porcelain saucers are happy to meet again in the dishwasher.

Manufactured from polypropylene, the Saleen baskets are dishwasher safe and foodsafe.

When using the basket and porcelain combinations, you are not limited to applications that only involve food. If we consider the entire living area, some saucers and small bowls can certainly also be put to good use for cosmetics, jewellery, hair accessories... and much more.

Available from April 2015

Westmark GmbH

Westmark is a medium-sized company based in Elspe in the Sauerland, in the south-western part of the German state of North Rhine Westphalia. Westmark offers a large range of kitchen aids and useful household goods for kitchens and caterers. Its products are distributed by specialist outlets as well as more broadly. A large proportion of the range is produced within the company itself; which is just what you'd expect from products „Made in Germany“. The company boasts more than 50 years of experience in the plastics and metal manufacturing sector.
